

Maize Crop To Total About $3 Million

Crop loans on the maize crop will be near $3,000,000 in Randall county this year according to present indications.

The office of W. H. Upchurch has processed 500 maize loans.

When the loans were totaled before this week, the amount of money involved in these loans was $1,500,000. It was estimated that loans have been secured on about half of the crop which was raised in Randall county this year.

No estimates were made of the total maize loans as the yield has varied so greatly from the original estimate. Some irrigated maize crops have run as high as 125 bushels to the acre, while much of the grain will produce as much as 80 bushels.

Pioneer Woman Died Monday

Mrs. Nellie Chamberlin Edwards, widow of the late J. A. Edwards, died at 3:30 o'clock Monday morning at the Neblett Hospital. She was born at Mechanicsville, Iowa, on August 27, 1875, having reached 79 years on the birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards moved to Randall county in 1900, living on a ranch south of Canyon. The large white house in the west part of Canyon was built in 1906 by Mr. Edwards and his family moved to town.

"My Husband Was Victim of Cancer" Writes Mrs. Nance

Mrs. George Nance writes The Canyon News a letter to which every man in this area should take heed:

I wish there was something that I might say or do to impress every man and woman in our community with the seriousness of the increase in cancer, especially cancer of the lungs, among men.

Those of you who knew George, know that most of the past three years he has spent in some of the best hospitals and under the care of some of the best doctors to be had. The tragedy of it all is that we were never told that he might have cancer till a few weeks before his death—then it was too late.

I spent three weeks with George at Baylor Hospital, in Dallas, in the part of the hospital devoted entirely to cancer of the lung. That experience left a mark on me that I shall never forget. The doctors cannot definitely say why cancer of the lungs is increasing so rapidly, but they do have some definite ideas, and some positive proofs. They urge all men over 40 years old to have two X-rays of the lungs yearly and constantly be on the alert. Contrary to a lot of people's ideas, doctors still know very little of how to detect cancer till it's too late.

If I could impress even one person with the seriousness of the increase of cancer of the lungs, it might help me to feel that George's life was not given in vain.

As the State Highway Commission Pictures New Highway

C. C. Announces New Officers

TRUETT HULL, New Prexy

Truett Hull, manager of the Southwestern Public Service Company, has been elected the 1955 president of the Chamber of Commerce by the board of directors. R. B. Allen is vice-president and Jack Jennings is treasurer. Jack was the 1954 vice-president of the Chamber.

Delbert Lowes, Bill Sternenberg and John Brazill are the three new directors recently elected to serve on the board of directors of the C. C. Roland Black, secretary-manager, said these three men received the highest number of votes on the ballot distributed by the Chamber of Commerce to its members.

The new officials will take office January 1, 1955. The retiring directors that the new officials replace are Charlie Donnell, 1954 president of the Chamber of Commerce, Clarence Eugene Thompson and E. M. "Mutt" Myers, 1953 president.

Black states that the Chamber of Commerce had almost completed plans for the annual banquet being held December 2. Tickets will be on sale in the near future. The banquet is being held at 7:30 p. m. at the West Texas State College cafeteria.

Care Postmaster Dropped by the Request Officers

The Department of Defense has requested that hereafter the phrase c/o Postmaster not be used on mail addressed for delivery through overseas APO's.

The address on mail intended for members of the Armed Forces or civilians receiving mail through overseas APO's should be confined to three lines, if possible, the last line to show the APO number followed by the name of the post office as, for example:

Pvt. Willard J. Roe, RA 12378967 Company F, 167th Infantry APO 801, New York, N. Y.

"Of primary interest and importance to Randall County taxpayers as they consider the $900,000 bond issue called for December 4 is the cost to each as a person and to our county as a whole," said Charles Donnell, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. "To avoid any possible misunderstanding as to the cost for each taxpayer, we asked County Judge Roy Joe Stevens and the office of Tax Collector Bill Money for the actual figures."

Year of Levy	Assessed Valuation
1948	8,997,750
1949	10,982,490
1950	11,753,470
1951	13,787,560
1952	15,760,920
1953	17,005,700
1954	18,402,000

"These increases each year were kept in mind by the commissioners court as they studied the financing method," said County Judge Stevens. "By increasing the present county ad valorem tax rate of 92 cents to $1.22 the county can adequately handle the bonds over a 15 year period at an average interest rate of 2.146%."

"While we realized that this step would necessarily call for a two-thirds majority vote, we considered it advisable from the standpoint of total cost to county taxpayers. The alternate method would have called for a valuation increase of something over 20% and would mean Randall County taxpayers would also have to pay some additional state ad valorem taxes since the same valuation is used to figure county ad valorem and state ad valorem taxes. The method chosen of course only increases the county tax rate."

The tax assessor's office cited the example of an actual residence built recently in Canyon for $10,000. "This house is rendered on the tax rolls for $2,000 which would mean that this bond issue would place only an additional $6.00 per year taxes on this residence."

"Another example," they said, "is a section of wheat land in the southeast part of the county whose rendered valuation is $3,840. The tax increase per year on this land would be $11.52. Out west of Canyon is a half section of irrigated land assessed at $2,430 at the present time. The tax increase in this case would only be $7.29 per year. In South Amarillo there is a residence assessed at $2,000 and a complete commercial property assessed at $4,000. In these two cases the increase would be $6.00 and $12.00 respectively."

Since nearly everyone in Randall County has their county tax statement at the present time, they can easily figure the increase in their own case. Simply take the valuation figure, divide by $100 and multiply by 30 cents.

"Surely our Randall county citizens are gratified to have these actual tax figures," said Charles Donnell, "and we appreciate the cooperation of our county officials in providing them."

Mrs. Grace McDougal spent the week-end in Lubbock taking care of her daughter and new grandson. The grandson was born Nov. 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Denny.

Santa Fe Asks To Discontinue Train to South

An application will be filed with the coming week by the Santa Fe to discontinue passenger train service between Amarillo and Lubbock.

Three Santa Fe officials were here Tuesday to advise of the new movement.

"The Santa Fe has lost the mail contract between the two towns, and this loss is causing heavy loss of income. It will be necessary to discontinue this service, since it is used by so few passengers during the course of a month," was the opinion of the three.

Application to discontinue the train will be filed with the railroad commission.

L. E. Throgmorton To Speak at C. C. Annual Banquet

L. E. THROGMORTON

Roland Black, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said last week that plans were almost complete for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday, Dec. 2, at West Texas State College cafeteria.

Louis E. Throgmorton of Dallas is to be the speaker at the banquet. He is vice-president and director of public relations of the Republic National Life Insurance Company of Dallas.

During the past 27 years Mr. Throgmorton has been associated with insurance. Prior to his connection with Republic National, he was general agent for Aetna Life Insurance Company at Shreveport, Louisiana. During his residence there he was active in professional circles and president of the Shreveport Life Underwriters for two years. He was president of the state association for two consecutive terms.

His activities at Shreveport also included the presidency of the Shreveport Grand Opera Association, chairman of the Conference for Christians and Jews, and membership on the library board. He was a director and program chairman of the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce and an elder in the Kings Highway Christian Church. He also taught a men's class at the Broadmoor Methodist Church and a similar campus class at Centenary College.

In Dallas Mr. Throgmorton has been similarly active in civic projects, co-chairman of the Chamber of Commerce membership committee, on the board of trustees of Washington Pilgrimage, Inc., Washington, D. C. He is much in demand as a speaker before civic and business organizations. He is also assistant teacher of the John G. Slayer Bible Class of the East Dallas Christian Church and on the board of the church.

Throgmorton was born in Piggott, Ark., and was educated in the Jonesboro and Little Rock school systems.

This past summer the speaker accompanied a shipload of grain and heifers given by Texas citizens for relief of Europeans in distress, especially in Germany. While on the continent, Mr. Parr made a first hand survey in the countries visited, traveling third class in order to learn how the common people were living and especially their attitude toward the relief program of Church World Service and other agencies which are assisting in the rehabilitation of their land.

Mr. Parr will present his findings in his message on Sunday. The town of Canyon is invited to attend and hear a first hand report on European conditions from a great Christian citizen.

He is being held for Amarillo peace officers on the charge of car theft, but the owner of the car with which he was charged of stealing will not push the charge if damages are paid by the youth of his parents.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Eisenhower Was Not Defeated as Result Democratic Victory Nov. 2

Republican high moguls are rather put out trying to saddle the blame for the Democratic victory on the President.

That being the situation, the GOPers are all wet. The President was elected simply because the people were sick and tired of Democratic rule in the White House, and selected President Eisenhower over Harry S. Truman.

When the election came around on November 2, the voters had something else in mind rather than the personnel of Congress. The voters were less inclined to swallow the idea of party and to vote for the candidate. We have been preaching this doctrine for years, but this is the third time that we have ever seen it forcefully exemplified. The first time came when Wilson was elected president; the second when Roosevelt was elected. It is true that Texas went Republican when Al Smith was running for president, and Herbert Hoover was elected. It was a religious battle won by Hoover, rather than a Republican victory.

As we view President Eisenhower, he is still lacking a lot of being a finished politician, and there are many things about government which he does not understand. The fact that his name was not on the ballot spelled the difference between 1952 and 1954. Neither party won such a slamming victory at the polls in 1954, but the President lost none of his personal appeal to the public.

Towns Agree They Must Pay Expense of Canadian River Dam

Towns which will benefit by the Canadian River Dam may proceed to vote bonds in payment for the construction of the dam within 90 days. It is estimated that this cost will run up to about $70 million dollars.

Delegates from only three cities voted against the proposal. They were fearful that the big towns might try to put something over on them in the division of water. So long as Lubbock and Amarillo are in a fierce battle to claim the greater population, the other towns need not fear. The two big cities will be forced to base their assessment percentage of water claims on the amount of population claimed, and therefore why worry?

Water is water; no town can hope to become a city without plenty of water.

We hope that the Canadian River Dam will solve the water situation in the Panhandle for years to come. At any rate, we rejoice that the people of this area have at last reached the conclusion that if the water situation is solved that they will be forced to pay the expense of the project. The federal government has been coming to the aid of all such projects in years past, but not now.

"Point of Order, Mr. Chairman" No Longer Will Be Order of Day

"Point of order, Mr. Chairman; point of order, Mr. Chairman," and so on and on.

The one thing that pleases us most over the Democratic victory is that we shall no longer have to listen to this sort of foolishness from Senator McCarthy.

Yes, we know that there are a lot of people scattered throughout the nation who think that McCarthy is the only living soul who can be relied upon to save the nation from the commies.

There are millions of others who are convinced that McCarthy is a loud mouth who takes great delight in appealing to the prejudices of the people.

When Joe referred to the committee of three Republicans and three Democrats as tools of the Commies, he showed the exact character that he is, and if we had not already become thoroughly and completely fed up with his antics, this declaration would have been sufficient.

Women Sit on Juries of Texas — Amendment Not Yet Effective

The Attorney General has ruled that the recently adopted constitutional amendments will be effective today. This means that women jurors may be selected for future cases.

The compulsory feature is not essential since six women have been selected to try a case in Dallas.

Lawyers are divided as to the effect of the presence of women on their trial tactics. Perhaps the effect will be refreshingly good. At the same time, let it be remembered that men jurors have made a mess of legal procedure, and the presence of women cannot hurt justice.

The only handicap that we see toward this reform in court procedure is the fact that counties will be required to build additional dormitories, and to keep them tidied up for the reception of women jurors.

Other amendments will not be quite so radical upon the counties pocketbook.

German Boom Easily Explained

We are told that the biggest boom in Europe is in Germany, the nation which suffered defeat and was bombed so liberally by the Americans.

There is no secret to the boom. The folks over there pitched right in following the war and started to rebuild. The people of West Germany have taken care of the refugees from East Germany, in spite of all that the Reds of Russia have been able to do.

In the meanwhile fear has taken possession of France, and no nation in Europe has done so much toward dragging their feet. There is a tragic situation. Instead of doing things for themselves, they have been sitting calmly on the sideline, hoping that America would again send dollars to feed their people, and to hold the Russians away from their door.

Despite notions to the contrary, money can buy just about anything in small towns—as well as in large ones.

Why is it radio newscasters never know anything about the significance of news?

Most people are eager to help the other fellow, as long as he has the money to pay for it.

Then there are people who think everybody wants to know how they feel, and why.

"Lies" Hurlled at Newspaper by International Teamsters Union

We have long enjoyed reading the monthly publication, "The International Teamster" which is the publication of the teamsters union. Part of this enjoyment has been brought about by the refusal of the union to accept "advertising" in this publication. In other words, the union has paid its own way rather than hold up the various companies which have businesses in connection with the highways.

When the president of the union tacked the ugly word of "lies" of the press in connection with his organization, we rise up on our hind legs and say that Dave Beck does not appreciate all that the press of America has done for the nation as a whole and his union in particular.

There is not a single newspaper in the land which does not patronize liberally the teamsters union, or trucking companies to be more specific. Of course Beck does not represent the owners of the companies, but the drivers who are members of his union. So far as the owners are concerned, they can go and jump into the deep, deep sea. The drivers are the only important part of the operations as seen through the eyes of Dave Beck. Again he does not appreciate the fact that for every man employed, the owners of the companies have to invest fully $25,000 or even more in order to keep the men working.

Yet the press is loaded with "lies," in the words of Dave Beck.

He should stop, look and listen at what is going on in the union.

After the Accident—Seven Steps Painted Out by Hiway Authority

Leonard E. Kolem, general manager of the Automobile Club for Maryland, recently suggested drivers follow seven steps after being involved in an accident. Even if you are not planning to have an accident, his recommendations are worth considering. The seven steps are:

1. Stop. 2. Determine the extent of injuries, but do not move any of the unconscious. 3. Call the police. Get names and addresses of witnesses. 4. Make a mental note of the positions of cars and get license numbers. 5. Avoid discussion of the accident with the other car's occupants, and do not discuss liability. The police or the insurance company will settle that point. 7. Report the accident to your insurance company.

We think these steps contain sound advice and have only one thing to add to them, and that is to stay out of automobile accidents. At the present rate, it looks like the nation will suffer between 30 and 40 thousand deaths this year because of automobile accidents. See if you can avoid being one of these, or one of the many more who will be injured, or dismembered, but not killed.

Funny Claims Made for Effect Of Radio and T. V. Cabinet Meet

Here we have with us a mass of funny claims. The Republicans say that the radio and television report of Secretary Dulles to the President's cabinet was the hot stuff, and kept the nation from going even stronger for the Democrats.

The Democrats say that they had already won the election, and that the show amounted to exactly zero.

So far as any one knows, there is nothing to either claim. The Democrats had won the election months ago, according to observers, based largely on local questions and local problems.

Censure of Sen. Joe McCarthy

Senator McCarthy will be disappointed unless he is censured by the Senate. He expects that the threat will be carried out. He says so, and no double welcomes the censorship. This will be the third time in history that such a censure has been attempted.

The Wisconsin member has figured in all three attempts at censure, twice as the defendant and once as the charge maker. Although the present charges against McCarthy seem to be the outcome of a party fight, Democrats as well as Republicans were appointed to conduct the hearing.

Theoretically, these cases are brought to light for the upholding of the "dignity" and honor of the United States Senate," even though they do degenerate to the level of a neighborhood dog fight at times.

In the present case there is no question of unseating McCarthy in the picture, but former hearings have ended in such penalties. Since the first Senate met in 1789, six members have been unseated, 15 expelled, 15 denied seats and 14 held up for investigation but later seated. In some cases senators have resigned rather than face trial and possible expulsion.

Those who are aware of the role of the small independent colleges in this country will do something to help them survive today.

The trouble with overwork is that it gets you into such a routine that you can't enjoy what you have earned after you get it.

We would like to see a forum program some day on which a Republican and a Democrat agreed on all the major points.

We think some people who are now so worried about air raids would do well to give their attention to careful driving.

Success does not depend on intelligence alone. In fact, steady application is the most important ingredient needed.

Trade as near home as you can—if you can get adequate services—and keep money in or near your community.

The trend toward specialization in this country makes for some mighty narrow-minded people.

There are some who have never found the "right" church, and never will, and you know why.

The opening of school has, no doubt, broken many a young heart beyond repair, temporarily.

Whatever your job, there is always someone who can do it better.

No economy should destroy any necessary governmental function.

WINDFALL RECOVERY

The Justice Department has announced it will seek to recover nearly $3,500,000 of alleged "windfall" profits from builders of the huge Parkchester Apartment development in New Orleans. The total mortgage insured by the FHA was $10,845,000, while actual costs were lower.

ADVISED!

Boss — Who told you you could neglect your office duties just because I give you a little kiss now and then?

Secretary — My attorney.

The United States is planning to send a small expedition, under Navy leadership, to the Antarctic within a few months "in line with a continuing United States interest in the region," the White House has announced. The expedition, which will sail aboard an icebreaker, will seek scientific and map data but will not establish any permanent shore bases.

The pictures that hang on our walls, like as not, got there by default.

This one little Jackie gave us, 20 years ago on Christmas. He chose it because it had a dog in it, and cost only 50 cents. Yet long after little Jackie has moved to Timbuctoo and couldn't remember the incident to save us, it keeps its place on our walls.

Another was a wedding gift, a better print, of course. Its donor loved green, so she chose a subject decked out in her favorite color. The fact that we prefer reds and yellows doesn't matter. We keep that picture hanging.

A glance at our walls recently disclosed four such gifts. Another we bought, sight unseen, because we knew the artist. An enlarged photograph of a cathedral was presented by a World War I soldier. Two others were purchased when our taste was, to say the least, different.

Yet there they all hang — literary map of England, cowboy, French miniatures, Audubon print, and Kansas watercolor. Year after year they stare at us and at each other, apparently as permanent as death and taxes.

Interior decorators have long encouraged an occasional change in picture diet. Yet the average homemaker would as soon change husbands as replace the familiar prints. She never really looks at them, either; they're part of the living habit, like a bathtub, venetian blinds, and aluminum cooking utensils.

Recently the spouse asserted himself as head of the house and moved a couple of new prints into the old frames. After the first shock, we've got such a lift from them that we're thinking of lobbying for a National Change-Pictures

Week with the next session of Congress.

AUSTIN: Except in Dallas County, Texas, voters heavily backed the Democrats and the 11 constitutional amendments at the Nov. 2 election.

In Dallas County Republican Bruce Alger pushed into the win column, defeating Wallace Savage, former state Democratic chairman, in the fifth district race for Congress.

Among amendments to the constitution, Texans okayed women jurors, more pay for state legislators, hiked terms for office holders to four years and upped expenditures for the state's senior citizens.

Governor Allan Shivers and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson came through with heavy majorities.

School Poll Stopped

A survey of high school students to determine feelings about segregation was stopped by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd after the poll was made public.

Shepperd said he halted surveys in Marshall and Waco high schools because public attention was influencing answers.

Results were to be used as part of the brief he is preparing for the Supreme Court in the public school segregation matter.

Auto Inspections

By waiting until deadline time draws near, Texas motorists are causing a potential log jam at official auto inspection stations.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Texas Department of Public Safety director, said that Texans are now 100,000 behind last year's figures. That means motorists will soon start stacking up at inspection stations, he said.

Garrison urged drivers to get inspections now and avoid the predicted jams. Inspection deadline is April 15.

Turnpike Approved

A proposed $58.5 million turnpike between Dallas and Fort Worth has been approved as a sound financial investment with construction to start next year.

Toll-road experts told the Texas Turnpike Authority that at the ratio of revenue to cost, the project would be one of the best in existence.

Loan Firms Warned

The GI warning of "shape up or ship out" has been handed Texas loan firms by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd's criticism of present operating practices of many loan and credit insurance sellers came at a meeting with representatives of state firms.

He said there was a growing tendency from some companies to "gouge borrowers" with high interest and service charges.

"Operation Radar" is planned to

Bid Investigation

Identical bids on electrical equipment received by the Austin City Council will be looked into by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

However, the investigation will not reach the congressional level as Councilwoman Emma Long advocated.

Shepperd said that he is now gathering information from cities over the state that have experienced noncompetitive bidding. The Austin bids, from four different firms, will be included, he said.

Mrs. Long attempted to get the council to back a request for a congressional investigation, but was outvoted.

Avent Lair Talked On Expressway at Rotary Club Lunch

A film on the Houston expressway was shown Tuesday at the Rotary club luncheon, followed by a talk by Avent Lair on the $900,000 bond issue to be voted upon on Saturday, December 4.

Truett Hull, chairman of the Community Service Committee, was in charge of the program.

Mr. Lair pointed out that many farmers had a misconception and therefore voted against the bonds in the first election. The public is entitled to correct information. Neighbors of Lair opposed the bond issue because they were told that they could not cross the expressway. He pointed out the fact that at every crossing, ample facilities would be provided.

Another fallacy was the need of a 300 foot right-of-way. This is needed for future development. It is much cheaper to buy now than later.

The speaker praised Canyon as a good place in which to live. It was no boom town, yet business was greatly improved over the days before the present highway was built. He was of the opinion that no business would be injured, and that the expressway would not immediately help business in Canyon.

The speaker took up point by point the opposition expressed in the Brownfield Herald as to the bond issue proposed in that county and printed by The Canyon News last week.

He was of the opinion that $900,000 was a small amount of money in comparison to the great benefits to be derived from the bond issue.

Visitors were: C. R. Burrow, Paul L. Sanders, Dudley Bayne, David Miller, Jamie Airhart of Canyon, Frank Haggood, Ken Bell, R. T. Alexander, Arnold Attebury, E. Kancher, Forrest Barnes, Allen

Early, Jr., Wes Making, A. J. Foley, E. C. Wagner, Bryan Waggoner, Bryan Reece, John McCarty, Thurm Whitis, Manuel Edquist, all of Amarillo.

Shepperd Filed Motion Against Segregation Cases

Austin: Attorney General John Ben Shepperd Monday filed the Texas "friend of the court" brief in the segregation cases now pending before the Supreme Court of the United States.

The brief pointed out that the Texas public school system has been operating satisfactorily on a segregated basis since its beginning and that great strides have been made in recent years to guarantee every student in Texas an adequate education, regardless of his race, creed or color.

The brief contended that any program to carry out the court's May 17 decision should be left to the local school districts, since each would have individual and different problems, and each is a self-governing unit.

"It would be impossible to draft a decree that would apply equally to all school districts in Texas," it said.

Shepperd said that the Supreme Court could not be the school board for 2,000 separate school districts in Texas. He pointed out that school boards in this state are elected by the vote of the people.

Shepperd's brief refused to recognize that the decision of the court on May 17, holding segregation in public schools a violation of rights guaranteed under the national Constitution, may now be applied to Texas. The brief emphasized that Texas is not a party to the cases now before the court.

Texas filed the brief in reply to an invitation of the Supreme Court for suggestions on how the court could draw up a final decree in four cases now pending in the court.

Segregation in the public school systems of Kansas, South Carolina, Virginia and Delaware was challenged in the four cases.

The brief filed by the Texas Attorney General stated that it was filed on the condition that Texas would not become a party to the four cases as a result of filing the brief, but would be simply a "friend of the court" in pointing out facts on the Texas public school system.

Shepperd traced the historical basis of segregation, pointed to recent advances made under the Minimum Foundation program in Texas, set out statistical charts showing negro and white population and school enrollment, and called attention to the high educational standards of both white and negro teachers in Texas.

He quoted negro educators as stating that negro schools will be needed in spite of the court's decision.

Shepperd placed emphasis on the investment of Texas in existing school facilities and said that a quick enrollment of additional students in already over-crowded schools might halt their operation.

In concluding the brief asked that the "traditions of the segregating states be recognized by the court and not abruptly or suddenly destroyed."

That the court preserve the principle of local self government... and the right of free selection and choice of patrons of the public schools."

The school to train Christian workers in the Methodist Church started off with fine interest Monday evening. Sixty-three people enrolled in the four classes.

The school will continue for three Monday evenings.

The committee in charge of the planning and arranging for the school is Dr. Ruth Lowes, Mrs. Arthur C. Haley, Jr., and Mrs. Lester L. Hill.

Bufs Fall Before Cowboys After Leading 27-6 at Abilene Saturday

The Buffs amassed a heavy score against the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys Saturday night at Abilene, and then fell when the home team made good on an onside kickoff and filled the air with successful passes.

A West Texas State team led by freshmen and sophomore reserves and sparked by Dale Wiley's sensational running built up a 20-6 halftime lead and held the advantage until four minutes were left.

Then the pass-happy Cowboys let loose with a barrage of aerials and surprising running plays deep in the game to stun the visitors with two lightning fast touchdowns and the victory, their second conference triumph.

The Buffaloes, who have won only one in eight starts, gave up the last and winning touchdown with 2:26 left, after the Cowboys had marched 46 yards following an onside kick recovery. Then the Buffs marched 32 yards to the H-SU five in six plays and had a pass completed for a first and ten when time ran out.

Halfback Joel Combs, senior half-back from Lefors, sparked the last quarter rally for the Cowboys, setting up both touchdowns with some speedy through-the-middle runs. Quarterback Kenneth Ford's brilliant aerials and freshman Charles Massague's ground game led the first half drive which left much to be desired.

Coach Frank Kimbrough uncovered a talented freshman, speedy Charles Sanders from Gruver, to pace a WT ground game that accumulated 285 yards, 63 yards better than the Cowboys could muster. Kimbrough, a former Hardin-Simmons player and coach whose team has beaten the Cowboys only four times since 1921, used freshmen Lenny Davis, Gerald Dunn, Mark Clapp and sophomore flash Delmer Tuggle most of the night to replace injured veterans Joe Walden and R. L. Rhoten.

Ford, the high school all-state passer from Breckenridge, connected on 15 of 24 aerials for 222 yards. Massague was the game's leading rusher with 93 yards on 16 carries. Wiley picked up 52 on 18 attempts.

The Buffs marched 61 yards to score early in the second with a march that started in the initial period. Mark Clapp and Wiley lugged the ball most of the way to the 19 where Hillman hit end Bob Covington on the goal line for the touchdown. Hillman kicked the extra point.

Lindy Davis intercepted a Gene Saur pass late in the second and ran untouched 35 yards for the Buffs' second counter and Hillman's extra point try was missed on a fumble from center. Hardin-Simmons countered with a 51-yard drive six minutes later with Saur hitting Jim Vaughn in the end zone.

The Buffs took the kickoff and went 51 yards from scrimmage for their last touchdown in the first half, with Hillman pitching out to Sanders for the wrap up. Hillman's kick was good.

West Texas rolled to a 27-6 lead early in the third when Mark Clapp broke into the clear and went down the left side line for 67 yards. The Buffs appeared to have a safe margin at that point but the Cowboys marched back with two touchdowns by fullback Owens and Rodney Williams.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Denver, Colo. — Falling asleep while driving on U. S. Highway 550 near Silverton, Colo., the automobile driven by Airman 1-c Escar Kimmel, of Redfield, Ark., plunged off a mountain road and tumbled 1,000 feet into a canyon—but Kimmel escaped with deep cuts and a possible arm fracture. The car fell 150 feet to the canyon, losing its engine, and then tumbled another 800 to 900 feet to the Las Animas River bed. Kimmel regained consciousness beside the river, made it to a railroad track and was spotted, ten hours after the accident, by another airman.

Russia Was the Subject Rotary Panel Talks

Russia was discussed Thursday night at Cousins Hall by a panel of three members of the Rotary Club, with refreshments being served by members of the AAUW.

Dr. Lowell Harrison was in charge of the program, which was put on by the International Relations Committee of the Rotary Club. The discussion of the panel required more than one hour, which was more time than devoted to the regular Rotary Club meetings.

Dr. L. F. Sheffy led off by discussing the history of Russia. He pointed out the fact that Russia has the largest population of any nation of the world; has the largest number of square miles, and controls one-fourth of the total area of the land of the earth. Russia is a land locked nation, and attempts have been made by various rulers to break through to the seas. This has been partially realized.

Herschel Coffee discussed the rise of Communism and its objectives. Karl Marx is usually described as being head of the Communist movement, but Marx never set up the machinery for world revolution. He believed that capitalism was wrong, and the nations of the world would fall under the weight of capitalism. The speaker traced the rise and fall of the First International; the Second International and Third International Communism as we know it today started in France, and thrives only when there is unrest. Mr. Coffee showed to the audience a small booklet which sets out the organization of Communism and how it operates.

A break was taken in the program while the women of AAUW served punch and cookies.

Capt. Garland McSpadden closed the program by comparing the military strength of America and of Russia. He pointed out the five points at which Russia might attack: Korea, Indochina, Near East, as Turkey and Iran; Europe.

Russia has the largest concentration of armed forces that the world has ever seen.

According to military authorities, Russia has the largest air force in the world; she has 5 to 6 as many submarines as USA; has more cruisers under construction than all nations under NATO; has 175 divisions under arms, as compared with our 24 divisions.

However, Capt. McSpadden believed that Russia will not attack us because of these facts: American divisions have 18,500 men as compared to 11,500 in Russia; we have 8,800 rifle power as compared to 6,700; we have 144 tanks as compared to 96; while both forces have 72 heavy artillery, the American built is much superior.

The Russian soldier is tops, but he does not have the will to fight; the area of Russia is wide spread and the people are not completely sold on Communism; political officers are supreme above military officers, which is a bad situation. The American forces are composed of quality rather than quantity.

The discussion was attended by 25 Rotarians; 15 members of AAUW; and a number of students and teachers of West Texas State.

Nortons Lease Ranch Spread to Canyon Operator

Hereford Brand: A ranch transaction of note was closed recently when E. H. and C. P. Norton leased five and one-half sections to Roy Byrd of Canyon. They also sold Mr. Byrd 171 cows and guaranteed 125 calves in the transaction.

Mr. Byrd, who has extensive ranch holdings in the Canyon area, did not announce definite plans, but will probably continue to reside at Canyon. He was also reported to have recently purchased 900 head of yearlings which he will bring in from Mexico.

Miss Bryan Is Bride of Steve M. McKee in Chapel Wedding Nov. 7

MR. AND MRS. STEVE M. MCKEE

In Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College on Sunday afternoon, November 7, Naoma Ruth Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Bryan of Happy, became the bride of Steve M. McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McKee of Canyon.

The Rev. Win R. Matsler, pastor of the First Christian Church of Canyon, read the double ring service. Floor baskets of large white chrysanthemums and blue pompons tied with bobby blue satin, flanked by white tapers in candelabra formed the decorative setting for the ceremony.

Miss Joanne Hill, organist, played "Why Do I Love You," "Always," and "I Walk Beside You," as a nuptial prelude. She also accompanied Mrs. Stanley Hill, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional marches were used for the professional and recessional.

Candles were lighted by Mrs. Carroll Dean Rogers, sister of the bride. She wore a biege faille suit with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Mrs. James Bible, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a navy blue suit complemented with a baby blue hat and navy accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

For her wedding the bride chose a navy blue tailored suit complemented with white and navy accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

James Bible, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Serving as ushers were Prentis and Rayburn McKee, brothers of the groom, of Borger, and Carroll Dean Rogers, brother-in-law of the bride, of Wayside. Mike McKee, nephew of the groom, of Borger, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Bryan, mother of the bride, was attired in a black dress with pink accessories. Mrs. W. L. Pearson, grandmother of the bride, selected a black dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. McKee, chose a brown dress with black accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

Carol Ruth McKee, niece of the groom, presided at the guest book. Out of town guests registering included: Mr. and Mrs. James T. Bible and Mr. and Mrs. Carol Dean Rogers of Wayside, Mrs. W. L. Pearson, W. H. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pearson, all of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boston and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bryan and family of Happy; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Larson and Mrs. R. B. Ballard, of Vega; Mrs. Charles M. Gaston and Mrs. E. O. Cross and girls, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Varn McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn McKee and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Prentis McKee and children, all of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Byars and children of Amarillo.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents for the immediate families. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over blue and centered with an arrangement of white mums and blue pompons. Blue candles in crystal candelabra flanked the centerpiece. Mrs. Wayne Byars, sister of the groom, served the tiered wedding cake. Punch was ladled by Mrs. Rogers.

For the past three years, Mrs. McKee has attended West Texas State College, where she is majoring in home economics. Mr. McKee also attended West Texas State College and is employed by the Olympic Theater and is a plumbing contractor.

After a wedding trip to Colorado the couple will be at home in Canyon.

SERMON OVER

It was the first time in church for the three-year-old. He was surprisingly patient through the sermon. He toyed with a hymn book, looked around the church with interest, but made no trouble.

Then the minister gave the benediction. The congregation bowed its head. The child looked at his mother in prayer—head down, eyes closed—and ordered in a clarion voice that only one of his age can muster: "Mommy—wake up!"

WHAT COUNTS

A thrifty man went to a lawyer for advice. After the interview the man ran into an acquaintance and told him about it.

"But why spend money on a lawyer?" asked the other. "When you sat in his office did you see all the law books there? Well, what he told you, you could read in those law books."

"You're right," admitted the advice seeker, "but the lawyer knows what page it's on."

You Take a Cold From Other Folks

AUSTIN: You catch a cold from a person who has a cold when you take in more of his cold germs than your body defenses can destroy. This is apt to happen when you are tired, and somebody is coughing or sneezing around you, says Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer.

Avoid taking in large masses of the germs by staying away from the person who has a cold; by staying out of crowded places during a cold epidemic; by washing your hands before you eat and after contact with a cold-infected person, or articles he has handled.

Keep your general health high by getting plenty of sleep; by eating regular well-balanced meals and drinking plenty of water; by getting some outdoor exercise every day; and by letting sunshine and fresh air into your home, office or factory.

Don't lower your resistance by getting too tired, over-heated or chilled. Avoid sitting in dried out, smoke, dust- or chemical-laden air. Dress according to the weather and the temperature in which you must work.

Go to bed if you possibly can at the first sign of a cold. If you can't stay in bed, get as much rest as possible. Protect others by covering your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze, and by washing your hands frequently, especially before handling food, cooking utensils or dishes.

Don't try to treat yourself. If your cold symptoms persist or if you develop fever or chest pain, call your doctor and follow his advice.

Your Mark

Ideals, a high sounding word isn't it?

To escape from this world of vague meanings and generalities let's venture back some 2000 years to the shores of Galilee. The people live in scattered villages composed of mud and rock hovels centered about the public well. The people are a hardy stock making their living from the sea. The well bronzed faces and wiry muscles testify to the long hours of strain and sweat.

They are uncultured people having little need of education. The people show a fierce love of country, although they are under the heel of the Roman Empire and have a vile hatred for the Roman. They speak often of a Messiah or divine Leader which is to deliver them from bondage, and create a new nation—one of great power and prestige.

Among these people live men like the impulsive Simon Peter and the sons of thunder, James and John. These are harsh, coarse men with inflammable tempers quite capable of exploding into lurid blasts of profanity. Yet these were the very choice of Jesus. Certainly these fellows were a far cry from the apostles who carried every trial and persecution with patience and courage.

Why should these men be chosen above all others? Because Jesus had an ideal, a vision of what these men could attain when they had a proper view of the Kingdom of God. He realized that when these men set for themselves a goal they would stubbornly persist until they reached it. He reasoned that upon attaining that goal they would have new insights and set higher marks for themselves to attain. No wonder he commanded them to be perfect like their heavenly Father.

St your mark high so you will leave the world a little better than when you came into it.

Eagles Slaughtered By Hawks

Fans witnessed the collapse of Canyon's hopes for the 1-AA District title at Phillips when the Blackhaws crushed the undefeated Eagles, 59-0, last Friday night.

Canyon crumbled in the first quarter when the Hawks scored in the opening minutes of the game on a Canyon fumble. Again on an Eagle fumble the Blackhaws scored with the clock only a few minutes deep in the game. The Hawks held the Eagles within their own 35 yard line the entire stanza and scored again to close the quarter.

Phillips 21, Canyon 0.

Breaking loose in the second period, Phillips added two more touchdowns to their rapidly gaining lead and closed the half without a Canyon score. In the third period Canyon failed to pull from its slump, and the Blackhaws galloped for three more touchdowns before the quarter ended. One more TD in the final quarter and Canyon's hopes for championship met destruction as the game closed with Phillips, the victor 59-0.

After the first quarter Canyon played cautiously, but the swift-moving Hawks telegraphed each play and met Canyon at scrimmage with few exceptions. Canyon gathered 229 yards by air and land while the Hawks gained 521 yards on the ground and in the air. Phillips left the field with 20 first and tens while Canyon retired with 13.

Don Meek, Phillips fullback and the area's leading scorer, Jimmie Gray, Phillips halfback, and halfback Jackie Webb contributed greatly to Canyon's downfall with long, powerful drives to the end zone.

Canyon attempted 10 passes and completed 6. Phillips attempted 11 and completed 8. Canyon intercepted four passes and Phillips did likewise.

Both teams were undefeated and were chosen as the area's first and second squads. Next week the teams finish the 1-AA district football season with Canyon facing Shamrock, and Phillips playing Hereford.

Choir Students See Madame Butterfly

"Madame Butterfly," Charles L. Wagner's production of Puccini's classic, was presented in the Amarillo Municipal Auditorium Nov. 16. The opera is based on John L. Long's book and the drama of David Belasco. It illustrates the old saying, "A sailor has a girl in every port."

When you hear the opera you will see an example of the beautiful pure love and devotion of a Japanese girl who gave up her religion, friends, relatives, and social position to marry an American naval officer. The husband was separated from his wife by the war and he later married an American girl. When Madame Butterfly learned of his second marriage she committed suicide fulfilling an old Japanese belief, "If you cannot live in honor, die in honor."

This beautiful drama was seen by several students of CHS and a number of adults in the community.

The barber had cut him, nicked him, and gashed him.

"Give me a glass of water please," gasped the victim.

"You aren't going to faint, I hope?" asked the barber in alarm.

"No," replied the victim. "I just want to see if my mouth still holds water."

HE'LL FIND OUT

A neighbor tried to comfort the deserted husband.

"It was a terrific shock to hear that Smithers ran away with your wife. I'd always thought he was your best friend."

"He is," replied the husband with a happy smile, "only he doesn't know it yet."

DEAD LINE

"These flowers," said the hotel guest as he presented the bouquet to the manager, "are for the girls on your switchboard."

"Ah, how charming," replied the manager, "this is a compliment to our service, no doubt?"

"Compliment, nuts!" snapped the guest. "I thought they were dead!"

Staff Solicits Ads For Annual

Members of the high school annual staff were downtown soliciting advertisements from the Canyon merchants on Wednesday and Thursday to be published in the '55 edition of the school annual, Soaring Wings.

In the two days of solicitation, the staff completed their advertising section. Total income was $480 for the 12-page advertising division.

This year the layouts for the advertising section have been completely changed. Nothing less than a half page was available, and all the ads will be pictures featuring high school students participating in the various business houses of Canyon.

This method of advertising was selected because the annual staff feels that the students will show more interest in the advertisements in this manner.

Solicitation of ads was arranged by Nancy Adcock, editor, and Alice Simms, business manager. Other girls taking part in this activity were Ann Moore, Charlotte Crain, Ruth Ann Bolton, Juanelle Burrus, and Alby Kuehler.

"He didn't have any," Johnny replied. "Mother was with him to the end."

"Oh, yes, there are."

"You'll have to show me."

Chester Bowles says U. S. aid abroad is timid and inadequate.

If we could walk out into our front yards tomorrow morning and cut ourselves a cube of air out of the "nothing" that surrounds our homes — if we could capture that air in an old-fashioned matchbox and bring it in — what would we have?

We can't see it, taste it, feel it, or hear it. Yet we know it's there. We know it is made up of gases, some beneficial, some impure. We know the samples wouldn't be the same here in the Southwest as in the North. We're told they'll even differ from town to country in our own state, from dooryard to dooryard in our own block.

We've been informed that those gases are made up of molecules, and the molecules of one or more atoms.

But with all this general information, we are still a little vague about what we've got in our matchbox of atmosphere. And until it is examined scientifically, we'll be no wiser — no matter how attentively we look, taste, listen or feel.

The ideas in our heads are a lot like the atmosphere that surrounds our homes. They float noiselessly across our consciousness, for the most part unnoticed. They are changing constantly. Some contain a higher percentage of impurities than others. Yet, occasionally, an idea gets plucked from the mental atmosphere, so to speak, broken into its parts and examined with scientific interest. Once we find what went into its formation, then we can judge its true value. And from such testing progress comes.

So what? Oh, it's just an idea — one we captured in a matchbox of insomnia last night. We put it in the deep freeze of the subconscious until we could get out the little home microscope and examine it in the bright morning light.

Kelly—Sure, that's what we were trying to do, your honor, when the police interfered.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Queen Mother's Visit

The British Embassy on November 9th was the scene of one of the world's leading social events. The Queen Mother of England was honored by a reception. Approximately 2,000 guests were present to greet the Queen Mother. The main entrance to the Embassy is on Massachusetts Avenue, where entry on such occasions can be gained only by complete and proper identification of one's self.

It makes little difference that you may be well acquainted with the person stationed at the entrance to require the identification, the invitation issued must be presented by the person named therein. I am afraid my wife might have been a little put out with me as I had forgotten just which pocket I had put mine in. I am going to advocate that some manufacturer produce a man's suit with just one pocket. It would save lots of hunting.

After entering the Embassy, the guests were directed through the beautiful rooms and hallways and into the reception hall, where the Queen Mother stood between Sir Roger Makins, the British Ambassador, and his lovely wife. Many of you have seen colored pictures of the Queen Mother and have noticed the beautiful blue in her eyes. I can assure you that they are more beautiful in real life than in the colored pictures.

The Queen Mother is a lovely, gracious person, and I wish all of you could meet her. After the introduction, the guests were escorted into the garden. This may seem rather odd for this time of year. Let me explain it.

The garden is covered with a heavy tarpaulin laid on the ground similar to that laid on a baseball field or football field to prevent it from getting wet. Then a huge tent is erected, and decorations and tables are provided. The tent is heated by strategically located heating units, and actually you do not realize that you are being entertained in a temporary structure.

The reception was attended by representatives of governments all over the world, and you could hear almost any language being spoken, from the clipped English of the true Britisher to the Japanese, which I can make neither heads nor tails of, and back to the Texas drawl, which is always present, no matter whether the party be large or small.

Speaking of the Japanese
Senator Grady Hazlewood and his lovely wife, Andrene, honored us with a visit the other day. It was late in the afternoon, and they wanted to make a hurried visit to the National Cathedral. Since it closes pretty early, we got into my car and were making a dash for it so that they might get in before closing time.

We were going down Rock Creek Drive when we heard the wailing or sirens that continued to grow closer and closer. I thought it was an ambulance, but when I looked in my rear view mirror, I could see two policemen with flashing red lights waving everyone to the side of the road. We pulled over to keep from being run down and also to clear the way for what appeared to be an emergency. Much to our surprise, the car that was being led by the officers had an American flag on one fender and a Rising Star flag on the other.

It was Shigeru Yoshida, the Prime Minister of Japan. Soon after this, we were again blocked by this same car coming up on Massachusetts Avenue and going to the Japanese Embassy. It did seem rather strange that all of this fanfare was taking place in honor of a Japanese who only a few short years ago was probably the most hated man in the Capital City.

In any event, I got Grady and Andrene to the National Cathedral, and hope they had a good time. I did not get to see them again before they had to leave. It was certainly nice to have them here to get in a good visit.

We also had a visit from Lyle Restine, of Amarillo, who works for the Santa Fe. He was on his way to Bermuda for a visit.

Thirty-six years ago, on the 11th of November, the then President of the United States made the following statement:

"To conquer with arms is to make only a temporary conquest; to conquer the world by earning its esteem is to make a permanent conquest."

Its truth has been proven many times.

DWIGHT DAVIS CELEBRATES FIRST BIRTHDAY WITH PARTY

Dwight Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Davis, celebrated his first birthday at the home of his parents at 506 14th Street on November 8 from 2:30 until 4:30 p. m. when his mother entertained with a "circus" party.

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

Lou Doyle mentioned the beauty of the colorful trees we have had this autumn. Lou felt that the trees were exceptionally beautiful along Fifth Avenue in the vicinity of the 1100 block. Colorful autumn leaves are really something to be enjoyed here because usually we don't have them. Ordinarily the trees just stay green until a killing freeze comes along and gets the leaves then they just turn black and drop off. It may be a trite subject but if you haven't enjoyed the colorful beauty of this autumn, you've really missed something.

Jim Latimer, one of our local boys in the insurance business, and his boss, Jerry Little, helped an elderly couple from an overturned car recently and received a nice reward. According to Jim the car was on its side about 15 miles west of Canyon on Highway 60 and the couple were inside. He and Jerry helped the couple out and learned that the man was now retired and had a hobby of leather working. He gave both Jim and Jerry a beautiful hand-made, hand-tooled billfold.

Between his job and school Jim Latimer has been very busy the past couple of weeks. He has recently started taking a course, L.U.T.C. Life Underwriter Training Course, at Amarillo Center. Jim explains it as being a course for people who have been in the insurance business for a short time. He attends the course 2 1/2 hours each Monday morning and the entire course lasts six months. According to those attending the course, it is about the latest thing in insurance to come out of New York. Jim explains that the course is equivalent to about a six hour college course.

If any of you noticed that the boulevard stop sign had been changed at 15th and 3rd Avenue to stop the traffic on 15th rather than Third, you may have wondered why the change. We asked Roland Black last week if he knew why and he said it was work on the underpass on Highway 87.

While the underpass is being constructed traffic will be routed around 15th Street, out Highway 60 and back to Highway 87 north of town. According to all reports the actual construction on the underpass is about to begin. It's really supposed to be a nice one too. Although there is no underpass in the vicinity like the one to be built here, one of the officials said the underpass would be something like the one on Highway 66 west of Amarillo where there used to be a little narrow underpass. It won't be like it but will be similar.

Thursday, November 11, was the first Veterans' Day to be observed. This holiday was formerly World War I Armistice Day but was changed this year to honor the veterans on both World Wars. Along the streets in Canyon this year it seemed that there were more than the usual number of flags out. It is a good, patriotic sign when a large number of business men put out flags on national holidays.

There was no cause for joy in Canyon Saturday, the mighty Eagles nose-dived as victims of the Phillips Blackhawks. We go along with Tommy Lair and several others around town who believe if the Eagles could get over their fear of the Blackhawks they could beat them more often. One person said as far as he could see the Eagles had a right to be afraid of the Blackhawks, which may be very true but on the other hand if the Eagles could muster a little more confidence in this game they could make a better showing.

A young married couple were shopping in a furniture store and the clerk heard the young wife say, "Oh yes, I agree that twin beds are fine, but let's wait until we get the twins."

If you don't believe the Russians want peace, just watch them, they'll even go to war to prove they want peace.

You better shop early for Christmas this year, if you don't the stores may be sold out if you wait until the last minute.

The little iron kettle that the traveler sees beside the highway as he enters Grand Saline represents the beginning of the great salt industry there.

When the industry was 100 years old, on Dec. 17, 1945, the writer visited Grand Saline and from J. E. Hanes, manager of the Morton Salt Company, and from the Grand Saline Sun, the story was obtained of the growth of the industry until 350 men were employed in connection with the mining hundreds of feet below the earth's surface.

It was in the closing days of the Republic of Texas that the industry started. However, one can go back even beyond that, for the Indians knew of the salt and utilized it. The Cherokees obtained the land in 1834 by treaty and made salt by evaporating water from a salt marsh which was on the surface, of course—and over the center of what has since been found to be the salt dome.

Mrs. J. E. Persons, Sr., who made a study of the history of the deposit, has recorded that the redskins used iron kettles to boil away the water and that they carried some of the salt to Nacogdoches to barter for things they needed.

The Grand Saline dome is circular in shape at the top and is about a mile and a quarter in diameter. The dome lies about 200 feet below the surface of the ground, with total depth unknown.

When the land was thrown open for settlement, a partnership agreement was entered into for the purpose of making salt, between John Jordan and A. T. McGee, dated Dec. 17, 1845. The settlement was known as Jordan's Saline and salt was made by boiling down the marsh brine in kettles. One of these is the kettle to be seen as you enter Grand Saline on the west and another is on the east.

Frederick J. Hamm acquired the properties in 1857. The output was small, due to crude methods of manufacturing and transportation difficulties, the salt being hauled to towns on the east in wagons. In 1859, S. Q. Richardson bought Hamm out and made improvements, digging shallow wells and installing a pump operated by oxen on a treadmill. Gum logs were hollowed out and joined together to form a pipeline from the pump to the kettles.

During the War between the States, the Richardson salt works were taken over and operated by the Confederate government. The production was about 100 sacks a day, a sack being 100 pounds. After the war, the plant was turned back to Richardson.

In 1874, the Texas and Pacific Railroad came and the community was renamed Grand Saline. Another salt works was established and, after various changes in ownership, the industry there was purchased by the Morton Salt Company. Both the evaporation process (from wells) and mining are done. The shaft struck salt at 200 feet but drilling continued an additional 500 feet, 16 months being required to sink the shaft.

The mine is worked on a room and pillar system, similar to coal mining, except the rooms and galleries are larger. The rock salt is blasted loose with charges of dynamite. The mine is electrically operated throughout, a scraper loading the salt into a hooper on a conveyor belt which carries the cargo to the shaft. There, it is loaded into a bucket with a four-ton capacity and is hauled to the surface. Quite a transformation, indeed, from the days of the iron kettles!

WOMAN'S BOOK CLUB TOPIC IS FEAST DAYS AROUND WORLD

The Woman's Book Club is meeting today, this session to take the place of the one which would otherwise fall in Thanksgiving week.

Appropriately today's program has for its subject, Feast Days Around the World," which will be presented by Mrs. S. B. Louder and Mrs. C. A. Murray and will be the second of a series of study featuring homelife in many countries.

The first meeting of November centered around a sprightly review of Elmer Davis' recent book, "But We Were Born Free," which emphasizes throughout the importance of freedom to think and to speak, if the United States is to continue a democracy. The review was given by Mrs. Lee Johnson, and was preceded by a biography of the author presented by Mrs. Clyde McElroy.

Miss Edna Graham, president of the Book Club, had returned Wednesday morning from Mineral Wells where she had attended the state convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, on which she gave a report during the business session of the club.

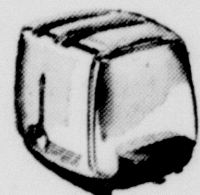

Mrs. Evetts Haley, formerly a member of the book club, was welcomed back into it.

Those in attendance on November 10 were Misses Elva Fronbarger, Graham, Darthula Walker, and Mesdames R. A. Bellah, Ray Campbell, A. A. Clark, Lon Fanning, Lee Foster, K. E. Frieze, Joe Gibson, Walter Graham, Charles Harter, J. W. Kleinschmidt, Louder, McElroy, M. J. Morris, Irving SoRelle, Fred Standley, Clyde W. Warwick, and Haley.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It becomes apparent drive to destroy U. S. protective tariffs is spearheaded by same old crowd of internationalists who moved into Washington after Herbert Hoover.

It is a coalition composed of those who seek huge profits and fronted by self-anointed messiahs who feel their life's mission is solving world's problems even at cost of last American dollar.

An organization called Committee for a National C.W. Harder Trade Policy is very active in Washington. Its president, Charles Taft of Ohio politico clan, appears before Tariff Commission sessions rebuking manufacturers who seek relief from ruinous cutthroat foreign import competition. On the side many call Taft's group The Amalgamated Golden Goose Slayers.

The U. S. is the golden goose. Containing less than 7% of world's population, it consumes perhaps as much, if not more, goods than rest of the world.

But significantly, U. S. richness as a consuming market is not due to any corner on world's resources, nor from pillaging of colonies.

The market was built by natural workings of protected free enterprise. With less than 7% of world population, but with 4,000,000 independent enterprises, U. S. has more business firms than rest of world combined.

U. S. State Department is said to be strongly behind tariff-wrecking move as it is panicked by European industrialists.

© National Federation of Independent Business claims that unless they can dump goods in U. S. they will have to sell Russia. That's why many feel a "no nonsense" leader such as Douglas MacArthur should take over State Dept.

The facts are, as publicly stated by many leaders, Marshall Plan, other give-away programs costing U. S. taxpayers billions were so successful, European production capacity is far above pre-war level.

Yet, as always, European production is controlled by cartels with independent enterprise eliminated. And while U. S. dollars were poured into these monopolies to increase their production the cartels took no move to develop new consuming markets.

Yet if some disaster wiped out populations of United States, the U. S. S. R. and all Red China, there would still remain 62% of world's population that now comprises a market so undeveloped it is incapable of consuming but a fraction of U. S. consumption with less than 7% of world's population. British empire alone contains four times more people than in U. S. yet British industrial cartels don't know where to sell their goods unless permitted to dump them into U. S.

The richness of the American market is based on the grounds that everybody is both a producer and a consumer. The only contribution government has ever made to this richness is enforcing fair play at the market place through anti-trust laws, and to protect American labor and business from imports of slave labor produced goods. All any European nation faced with the need for expanded markets needs to do to solve the problem is to send a few cents to U. S. Printing Office for copies of U. S. anti-trust laws.

Glenn-Glandon Wedding Rites Read In Lovely Home Wedding Recently

A/1c AND MRS. ROGER GLANDON

On October 22, Shirley Glenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Glenn, became the bride of A/1c Roger Glandon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Glandon of Sigourney, Iowa, in a lovely home wedding read by Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Glenn, grandparents of the bride. The impressive double ring ceremony was read at an improvised altar flanked by double candelabra with a background of tall baskets of mums in front of the large picture window in the living room.

Miss Norma Jean Glenn as maid or honor was her sister's only attendant. She wore a grey suit with red accessories and carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Norman Glandon served as his brother's best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a light blue suit with navy accessories. Her navy hat was studded with blue rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible surmounted with a white orchid.

Mrs. Glenn wore a dark blue suit with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony the couple was honored with a reception.

Although the bridegroom's father and mother were unable to attend the wedding, his brother and sister Larry and Carol Glandon and a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Glandon, all of Sigourney, Iowa, were in attendance.

The bride is a 1953 graduate of Canyon High School. The bridegroom graduated from Sigourney High School in 1950 and is stationed with the Army Air Force at Amarillo Air Force Base. They are at home at 1808 Fifth Ave., Canyon.

Around the Town . .

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

The United Church Women of Canyon are collecting needed items for a Christmas box to be sent to the mentally ill in our Texas institutions in Wichita Falls and Mexico.

More than 17,000 lonely people spent their days and nights in our state hospitals for the mentally ill and the special schools for the retarded. Although only a few hundred are so ill that they have lost contact with the world, more than 10,000 have been forgotten and rejected by their families and friends. And that is why the United Church Women are sending some Christmas cheer to these lonely people and are asking you to help with the following items. Men's T-shirts, sport shirts, under shirts, socks, cigarettes, cards, dominoes, after shave lotion (plastic containers), shaving cream, toilet soap, ball-point pens, cigarette lighters, stationery, candy, wallets, gift wallets, gift wrappings.

Women: Cigarettes, sun glasses, ankle socks, scarfs, home permanents, cosmetics, toilet soap, bath powder, nylons, ball-point pens, purses, cigarette lighters, stationery, panties, bras, (size 32 through 38), candy. Send these items to Mrs. Bob Gatten, Mrs. A. B. Haynes, Jr., Mrs. L. H. Brotherton, Mrs. E. W. Glenn, or send them to Gene Root's Paint Store on the square.

The newly organized Garden Club held its second meeting Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cox. It was decided to meet after this in the Library at the college. All who are interested in more and better yards are urged to join this club which has as its object the stimulating of the love of gardening, a study of horticulture, and to aid and encourage civic development. Coming the farthest to the last meeting was Mrs. Roy N. Byrd, Sr., who lives 15 miles southwest of Canyon and who has always been an enthusiastic gardener, raising many beautiful roses. Mrs. Byrd now has a terrace greenhouse and is raising orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Dowlen who live at 2110 4th Ave., planted two soft-shelled pecan trees about 12 years ago. The trees were six feet tall when planted and began bearing the second year. Mrs. Dowlen says they do not bear every year, that the late freeze gets them many years but that the trees are beautiful and the years they bear makes them a most desirable tree for this country. This year they had a crop and it was while picking them that Mr. Dowlen fell and broke an ankle, which is doing nicely now. The trees are now higher than the Dowlen's house.

An anonymous taxpayer sent a letter to the Bureau of Internal Revenue saying he had cheated on his income tax several years ago and hadn't been able to sleep well since. He enclosed $25 with the letter and added the following: P. S.: "If I still can't sleep, I'll send the balance."

Mrs. H. D. Curtis has a collection of beautiful quilts given her by her aunt, Mrs. L. R. Timber, of Buffalo, Mo. These quilts are all appliqued and are beautifully quilted. Mrs. Timber is a widow and makes her quilts to sell. Selling them for $30. Mrs. Curtis also has an appliqued quilt which was given her by Mrs. Mahi of Hawaii. It is called the flirting eye and is done in two colors, purple and white. The Curtises became acquainted with the Mahi's when they were in Hawaii this spring. They had flown over to visit their niece and husband of Mesa, Ariz. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bowers. Mr. Bowers was in Hawaii at that time as superintendent of a power plant being constructed at Maui, an island close to Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis enjoyed the beautiful scenery of the Islands, but even more the friendliness of the people. Mr. and Mrs. Mahi are members of one of the old families of Hawaii and Mr. Mahi is a member of the police force. Both are active in the Baptist Church and both sing in the choir. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis had flown to Cuba earlier in the year with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Johnson and while they had enjoyed this trip they liked Hawaii much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McElroy spent the week-end in Lubbock visiting with Mrs. McElroy's cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young. Mr. Young is with the Air Force in Lubbock and took the McElroys out to the Air Field to see a cargo ship land. These ships carry trucks and cargo only and Mrs. McElroy says they are so large they make other planes look like babies. She says you have no idea how large these planes are unless you see one on the ground.

Dr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Clark are the proud grandparents of two grandsons born just eight days apart to their two daughters, Florence and Bee. Florence, Mrs. James Parke Flanagan of Hooker, Okl., named her son Jimmie Wallace, and Bee, Mrs. Russell Carter of Van Nuys, Calif., named her son Paul Clark. Dr. Clark says his feet haven't touched the ground since the two boys were named for him.

Queen Mother Elizabeth of England has been visiting in America. It is said she is the glorification of the British housewife. Millions of British are counting on the Queen Mother conveying to ordinary Americans some of the warmth and affection which ordinary Britons feel toward America. It is said she has made a virtue of plainness, an art of being natural. One thing has made the headlines: SHE IS SPENDING BRITISH MONEY IN AMERICA.

Another very interesting thing to all Texans. It seems that on the trip over the Royal Party tried to name the Governors of the States in the U. S. and the only Governor any member of the party could name was Governor Shivers of Texas.

A Thanksgiving thought for all of us—each American farmer now feeds 17 people besides his own family. American farmers deserve a salute, for during the past 15 years they have boosted output 40% on fewer acres and with less help.

Mrs. W. A. Cullers, P. O. Box 22, Westville, Okla., will send REDBUD seeds free to everyone who will send her a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Mrs. Cullers says: "We have nothing to sell and no advertising matter will be sent. Our sole purpose in making this offer is to be neighborly and to share God's beauty with others." Mrs. Cullers sent seeds of the redbud six years ago and this is the first year since then she has had these seeds in abundance and so makes this offer again.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Harrell and Mrs. Ed Harrell have had as their guests for the last four weeks the late Mr. Ed Harrell's brother and wife, Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Harrell, and sister, Miss Fannie Harrell, from Georgia. Mr. and Mrs. Newton Harrell took them for a short visit in Gainesville and Dallas and Tuesday they boarded the plane to return to Georgia.

The trees have never been as beautiful as they are now. It is well worth a drive around town just to see them. Mrs. C. R. Burrow's pear trees, and Mrs. Rhone Mobley's American Elm are especially beautiful now.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Larson have as their guests Mrs. Larson's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Canavan and daughter Joy from Harlong, California.

Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Jack Hughes, Mrs. Tom Knighton, Mrs. Evetts Haley, Mrs. Clyde Warwick, and Miss Elizabeth Cox attended the luncheon at the Amarillo Club Friday noon honoring Mrs. Loretta Grim Thomas, of Houston, State Regent of Texas D.A.R.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bennett attended the funeral of Mr. Bennett's brother in Hollis, Okla., Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. McBride have a new son born Nov. 5th, whom they have named John Gary. Mrs. W. H. McBride of Pampa, mother of Mr. McBride, has been visiting in their home and will leave here going to Phoenix to visit with her brother. Mrs. McBride's sister, Mrs. Ines Cataldi, and son, Steve, from Lehigh, Italy, will visit in the McBride home until June when she expects her husband to arrive. The Cataldis hope to become citizens of the U. S. Mrs. Cataldi arrived in New York Saturday morning aboard the Italian ship S. S. Vulcani and flew from New York to Amarillo.

Mrs. Jeannette Robbins and Mrs. Ed Harrell spent most of last week in Neblett Hospital, having adjoining rooms. Both report a wonderful time and knowing these two I'm sure they did and am sure
